Girl Scout Cookie Program Adventure Point Rewards Catalog 2025

In addition to the cumulative rewards on the rewards flyer,
Girl Scouts who sell 408+ boxes earn Adventure Points!

Adventure Point Rewards are NOT cumulative.

Girl Scouts will be allotted a number of points to “spend” based on their earning level. This catalog contains the options for each point level.

Girl Scouts earn the number of adventure points at their final earning level, but they can be mixed and matched from multiple AP levels when selecting their reward.

For example, if a Girl Scouts earns 10 Adventure Points, they could choose:

Six Flags in Gurnee Adventure (10 AP)

OR they could choose a combination of items that equal 10 APs.

Camp Ehawee Mini Camp (7 AP)

Mini Photo Printer & Bullet Journal Set & Virtual Class (3 AP)

= 10 Adventure Points Total

Girl Scouts who sell 600+ boxes (2 AP or higher) will be contacted by Badgerland via email the week of April 28 to choose how they want to spend their Adventure Points.

Girl Scouts who sell 408-599 boxes should let their troop leader know which item from the 1 AP level they choose.

Travel Credit

For every 96 boxes they sell above 2025 they'll earn one additional Adventure Point.

Airfare:

Girl Scouts may redeem Adventure Points for Travel Credit to use on airfare for the 19AP trips. The Travel Credits would be the same amount of Badgerland Bucks at that level.

For example: 3AP of Travel Credit is $100.

Travel Credit for airfare may ONLY be selected by Girl Scouts who have chosen the trip to Walt Disney World or Washington DC Convention Trip. Travel Credit may only be redeemed through our Girl Scout travel agent and cannot be given as a form of payment directly to the parent or guardian.

Multiple Trips/Guardian Trips:

Girl Scouts that select London can earn Travel Credits to help pay for their adult to come along as well if they'd like.

Girl Scouts that earn 38 points may select multiple 19 AP options. For example, they could select two London trips and 1 would be for the Girl Scout and the other would be for their adult.

A combination of trips can also be selected for 38 Adventure Points:

Disney + DC
or Disney + London
or DC + London
