

Girl Scout Cookies are safe.

Misinformation spreads quickly.

We understand your concern and know that misleading information about Girl Scout Cookies has been circulating. We appreciate your asking and encourage you to seek additional information from science-based sources.

We are confident that our cookies are safe.

Our bakers follow strict food safety regulations set by the FDA and EPA, ensuring high-quality and compliant products.

Your support makes a difference.

Every purchase helps us fund exciting experiences, community projects, and leadership opportunities. Would you like to hear how we're using our earnings?

For more information, contact our council.

Our council team will provide accurate details if you have any more questions. Please contact them at info@gsbadgerland.org.

Here's more about
Girl Scout Cookie Safety.

Thank you for stopping by our cookie booth.

We appreciate your time and understand if you choose not to buy today. Have a great day!